Jim,

I just wanted to let you know that I received your email and am working on answers to your questions, especially your question regarding cancelling the current formulations and sending any new formulations in as stand alone new submissions. I agree this would be a much simpler approach. I'm hoping to get back to you on this in the next day or so.

Thanks,
Kaitlin

Good Morning, Kaitlin –

In our meeting yesterday, we reached general agreement that we will sign the letter pretty much as is, but there are still a few questions:

What form again is this agreement intended to take? As is, the document does not have a place for signatures – is the intent for me to write a letter on Wellmark letterhead ? Or is some other format intended? And I assume all you need is my signature, not a corporate officer?

When we sign the letter, when and how will that decision be publicized? (we will want to manage customers) Presumably, since the collars would not officially be canceled until the notice is published in the federal register, EPA will not publicly say the collars are canceled – is there any intent to publish the decision?

Finally, the agreement has fairly complicated plan for transitioning to new collars. Would it be simpler if we just agreed to cancel the collars in 18 months, with 12 months sell-through, and then any replacement collars stand on their own merits in a new submission?

Or do you really need to have the option to cancel the collars at an earlier date if we fail to meet a milestone?

Thanks,
